Purpose: Chunked reference data for a college information / admissions chatbot (RAG).

Section 1: Introduction to Tripura Institute of Technology

Subsection 1.1: Institute Overview

Tripura Institute of Technology (TIT) is located in Narsingarh, West Tripura District, Tripura, India — about 12 km from the capital Agartala and 2 km from Maharaja Bir Bikram Airport, Agartala. It functions under the Education (Higher) Department, Government of Tripura, is recognized by AICTE, and is affiliated to Tripura University (a Central University).

TIT began operations in 1958 as the Polytechnic Institute, Narsingarh, offering three diploma courses: Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering. It is one of the pioneer technical institutions in North-East India — prestigious institutions such as Tripura Engineering College (now the National Institute of Technology, Agartala) and the Women's Polytechnic, Hapania, trace their origin to this institute.

In 2007, the institute was upgraded to a degree-level institution under the name Tripura Institute of Technology, offering UG courses in Engineering and Technology. TIT is a co-educational government institution offering:

- Five UG (B.Tech) courses, all AICTE-approved
- Eight Diploma engineering courses
- M.Tech programs (see Subsection 1.3)

The institute has implemented the Technical Education Quality Improvement Program (TEQIP-II and TEQIP-III), supported by the World Bank via the Ministry of Education, Government of India, which funded state-of-the-art laboratory and workshop infrastructure and ongoing faculty development programs.

Students at TIT participate in extracurricular activities (debate, extempore, dance, music, quiz) and technical competitions such as the North East Hackathon and Smart India Hackathon, as well as the NCC program.

Notes for RAG Ingestion

- This document intentionally organizes real TIT Agartala content into section/subsection chunks (mirroring a typical policy-document chunking scheme) so each chunk is a self-contained, retrievable unit with clear headers.
- Several pages (department pages other than CSE, fee structure tables, academic calendar dates, full placement records, faculty lists) are linked but not fully transcribed here — for a production chatbot, crawl each linked URL under titagartala.ac.in and add it as its own chunk, since these values change frequently (notices, fees, dates) and should be kept current rather than hard-coded.
- All information above was sourced directly from <https://titagartala.ac.in/> and its subpages.
